One-day conference on practice-based commissioning

“Bridging the gap:
delivering integrated prescribing and medicines
management in the new environment”

This is a free event

Tuesday
20th March 2007

London
Bloomsbury

Registration Form

Closing date: 23rd February 2007

Who should attend?

This is the third NPC event focusing on prescribing and medicines management within the context of practice-based commissioning.

This event will focus on:

- Progress and current issues in the development of practice-based commissioning
- The interaction of practice-based commissioning with payment by results
- Current barriers and opportunities in developing a strategic medicines management approach across primary and secondary care
- Models for integrated approaches to medicines management within the current environment.

The event aims to share good practice and will be most useful for prescribing and commissioning leads, and prescribing and management teams.

Attendance at the conference is free. If you are unable to attend, please pass this form on to an appropriate colleague.

IMPORTANT

Complete ALL details including a current email address. Places will be confirmed the week commencing 26th February 2007.

Please note: Late cancellation or no shows on the day may incur a cancellation charge.
